

Information on CEMLA's Remittances Programme may be found here . In addition to technical background documents, the site makes available country reports that cover issues such as economic context; institutional and legal framework; characteristics of recipients and providers; means and channels of payment; costs, disclosure, transparency and consumer protection information; and compilation methodology. These are presently available for Barbados, Bolivia, Columbia, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, El Salvador, and Honduras.