

DFI participated on a panel to launch an ODI report on The Age of Choice , examining the new landscape of concessional finance for developing countries, with increasing presence of South-South providers, and whether this is allowing them greater choice in sourcing funding and ensuring it is more closely aligned with their national priorities. The video of the meeting is available here .